Sabu in "Drums"

Sabu, the handsome East Indian youngster who made a sensational screen debut in "Elephant Boy," makes his second film appearance heading the cast of "Drums," a thrilling technicolor drama of intrigue and romance on India's Northwest frontier, which begins a two-day engagement at the Redwood Theater starting Sunday. On the same program is "Sharpshooters," with Brian Donlevy, Lynn Bari and Wally Vernon.

Redwood City Police Officer, Speeder Killed

Third Motorist Dies As Car Overturns On Skyline

Three persons, one of them a Redwood City policeman, met death on San Mateo County highways in the early morning darkneww Sunday, and as the result of one of the mishaps, a Palo Alto postal clerk faces negligent homicide charges.

The victims:

HERMAN G. FLEISHMAN, 42, of 714 Adams St., a member of the Redwood City Police Department for 12 years.

GEORGE W. DEVIN, 24, of 1414 Main St., co-owner with Joe Semeria of the Garden Market at 1000 El Camino Real, San Carlos.

ROBERT CROW,33, elevator operator, 705 Haight St., San Francisco.

RELEASED ON BOND

Deaths of Fleishman and Devin caused negligent homicide charges to be placed against Robert H. Lee, 28, of 657 Channing Ave., Palo Alto, accused of driving the machine which ran down the pair as the officer was giving Devin a citation in San Carlos for speeding. Lee was released Sunday night on $4000 property bond.

The accident occurred, San Carlos police said, after Officer Fleishman and Special Officer Walter Ryan, son of Redwood City Fire Chief Mark E. Ryan, had pursued Devin from Five Points in Redwood City to San Carlos for speeding. Officer Ryan told fellow policemen that they traveled about 60 miles an hour along El Camino Real until finally they halted Devin at Brittan Ave.

Devin's automobile was stopped on the right side of the highway; the police car was halted behind it, farther to the right.

The two officers and Devin got out of their machines, as did Joseph Judge, Redwood City service station employe who was riding with Devin. It was about 2:15 a.m.

LEGS SEVERED

A call on the police radio summoned Ryan back to the officers' car while Fleishman and Devin conferred behind Devin's car on the speeding charge.

Suddenly, a crash was heard, and the car of Lee had struck the rear of Devin's car. Devin and Fleishman were caught between the bumpers of the two. The left leg of Fleishman and both legs of Devin were sheared off as if by giant scissors. Lee's car moved into almost the exact spot where Devin's had stood, while Devin's car was sent careening across the highway, over a curb and 26 feet into a vacant lot, according to measurements taken later by investigating officers. Devin's car, police said, was knocked more than 200 feet by the impact.

Fleishman, still conscious but unaware that his leg had gone, and Devin both were rushed to Mills Memorial Hospital. There doctors did everything possible to save their lives, but Devin expired at about 10:30 without regaining consciousness; Fleishman at noon.

SEQUOIA BOOKS 'SONS OF LEGION'

It should be of interest to members of the American Legion, its auxiliaries, youth movements, etc., as well as to general theater patronage that the Fox Sequoia Theater screen will reflect "Sons of the Legion" this Wednesday night. Bob Hope in "Thanks for the Memory" will be the other picture on this program.

Cycle Speeds Man Into Law's Clutches

Martin Putman, 28-year-old Community Hospital orderly, today faced the prospect of spending his vacation in jail, and was making his plans accordingly. He plans to start his vacation Feb. 1. On Feb. 3 he will appear before Judge Edward I. McAuliffe to answer a speeding citation. He was tagged by Highway Patrolman Frank Chevalier for traveling between 90 and 100 miles an hour on a motorcycle on Bayshore Hwy. from East Palo Alto to San Carlos.

Putman and an unidentified tandem passenger were burning up the highway and leaving Chevalier's patrol car far behind when the cyclist saw Patrolman Robert McInnis approaching in the opposite direction. Putman slowed down suficiently to get within hearing distance of Chevalier's siren. He told the officer he was trying out a new motorcycle.

American butter stocks in November, 1938, were estimated at 193,000,000 pounds, 75,000,000 pounds above normal.

A child's dining chair should be only deep enough to support his back and yet shallow enough to allow his knees to bend.

Treasure Isle Queen Contest Set. Feb. 19th

Selection of a "Queen of the Premiere" to rule over the Golden Gate International Exposition's opening will be made on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 19, according to information received in Redwood City by Queen Contest Chairman William M. Werder and Recreation Director Alfred Morton.

Competing at Treasure Island for the honor will be Redwood City's queen, one of the dozen girls now entered in the local contest which will come to an end with her selection at the grand ball Feb. 11.

According to exposition officials, there will be no set rules to the contest on Treasure Island. Only general requirement is that each girl be dressed in western costume, which can be either cowboy, Spanish or other such dress native to early California.

In addition to the queen, there will be a court of six attendants.

The government now requires that wines labeled "California wine" must be made 100 per cent in California.

The salary of the President of the United States cannot be reduced during his term of office.

Call Asks Schools For Track Workers

Educational facilities for jockeys and exercise boys at race tracks who are under 18 were called for today in a bill presented to the assembly by Harrison W. Call of Redwood City.

Call pointed out that many of the jockeys and exercise boys were under 16, the age of full time school attendance, and others below 18, up to which age part-time attendance is compulsory.

SON BORN TO WHEELERS

SAN CARLOS, Jan. 24—Police Chief Edward J. Wheeler of San Carlos yesterday became a grandfather when the wife of his son, Edward A. Wheeler, gave birth to an 8-pound son at Palo Alto Hospital. Mother and child were reported in good health. Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Wheeler live at 1340 Cherry St., San Carlos, with the new grandfather.

Kite flying, traditional New Year's sport of Japanese boys, has been banned because of "the emergency," the Chinese war.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

MRS. LATHAM DIES

MENLO PARK, Jan. 27 — The death of Mrs. Milton S. Latham in San Francisco on Tuesday recalls her residence in Menlo Park in the late sixties when she was young and beautiful, a reigning belle of California. Her distinguished husband came here and erected a palatial residence on the property now owned by Mrs. Timothy Hopkins. The old land mark still stands, as mute evidence of bygone days when its tinted walls echoed the laughter and gaity of the elite of the Peninsula and San Francisco that gathered there. The hostess was talented and clever and had a charm that made her very popular.

Latham was elected governor of California in the early sixties, serving only one day when he appointed himself U. S. senator to fill the unexpired term of Senator Hahn, who was filling the unexpired term of Senator Broderick, killed in a duel near Colma by Judge Terry in 1859. After leaving for Washington, very little was ever heard of Latham. It is said he died in comparative poverty in New York some years later.

Latham established one of the finest homes on the Peninsula. The extensive grounds were the show place of the county and the statuary lettered along the grassy lawns was costly and the admiration of sightseers. The old mansion has not been occupied in nearly 50 years. It stands, ghostlike, among the pines, evidence of the wealth and glory of other days. The death of Mrs. Latham was a surprise, as she had been forgotten and her old friends lost sight of her and supposed she had been dead for many years.

Frank H. Beeton, a resident of Felton Gables, was appointed a member of the city council at a special meeting held Wednesday evening. There was no other applicant for the position. He takes the place of John B. Welsh, who resigned owing to ill health. Mr. Beeton is a public accountant with offices in San Francisco.

Frank P. Dougherty, who passed away at Santa Clara last week, was well known in Menlo Park, having spent his younger years in this vicinity. He was a native of Mayfield, age 71 years. Some years ago he conducted the Woodside Hotel until it was taken over by J. V. Neuman. Dougherty came from a pioneer family, his family coming here in the late sixties. For some years Dougherty made his home in Santa Clara where he was engaged in business. Many from here attended the funeral on Saturday. Among the pall bearers was Ex-Mayor W. H. Weeden of Menlo Park, a close friend of the deceased.

On Jan. 11 a girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clothier, San Francisco. The proud father is a former Menlo Park young man. He is "one of the finest" on the San Francisco police force. The little miss was very proud when told of the birth of her cousins, the Morey boys, in the Palo Alto Hospital last Saturday. The twins are doing nicely. Their total weight is 13 pounds. The proud father, Frank Morey, is also doing well and recovering from the avalanche of congratulations showered on him by his many friends.

The Western States have shown a 590 per cent increase in the number of milk cows since the 1870's, while the North Atlantic States have shown only a five per cent increase.

Crossing Watchman Is Taken by Death

William Needham, who had been employed as watchman at the Main St. crossing of the Southern Pacific Railroad for many years, passed away Sunday at his home at 344 Fuller St. He was 74 years of age.

Mr. Needham, an uncle of Walter Needham of San Francisco, was a member of the Knights of Pythias Railroad Order. He had been employed with the Southern Pacific for many years, serving as a brakeman before coming here.

WE'RE CELEBRATING THE NEW YEAR

GAS HEAT fixed us up fine for Easy Chair Living in '39

Here is a family that gave the New Year a warm reception. They installed Gas Heat on the first rainy day of Fall. And for years to come they will feel like celebrating the warmth, the comfort, the cleanliness and cheapness of Gas Heating.

Low gas rates, improved and automatic gas heating equipment at reasonable prices, make Gas Heating the first choice in California homes today. It is just as convenient and dependable to use as the electric light you turn on by pressing a button. It is always there when you need it—in large amount or small. New Member Put on Board

MENLO PARK, Jan. 25—The resignation of John B. Welch, city councilman of Menlo Park, was accepted "with regret" last night at a meeting of the board. Taking action immediately to replace him, the councilmen named Frank A. Beeton, resident of the same district in Menlo Park as Welch.

Welch tendered his resignation from the council because of ill health. The council passed a resolution commending him for his activities until his recent illness which has kept him from board meetings the past eight months.

Upon a motion of Capt. Hugo May, the council voted unanimously to appoint Beeton to complete Welch's unexpired term. The new councilman is a cost accountant.

'LET DOWN BY STATE'

The widening of El Camino Real was discussed in detail by the city council following the statement of Councilman Harry J. Lusk, "that the state highway commission has let us down." The council received a letter from the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce informing it of the possibility of delay.

"My thought is to bombard the commission with letters, telegrams, and everything else, since they haven't kept their pledge made at a formal meeting in Sacramento September 2" Lusk declared.

He expressed the opinion the $661,800 allotted by the commission would be used to buy rights-of-ways, and "then leave us wait."

Councilman Henry Carroll, however, expressed a view to "go after the highway commission in a business-like way."

CO-OPERATION PLEDGED

"I suggest the mayor get the real low-down from Senator Parkman" he said.

Upon a motion of Lusk, the council instructed its clerk to write a letter to Redwood City, pledging co-operation in the effort to get work started this year.

A resolution was passed by the council confirming the acceptance of the administrator's deed to the Michael O'Dea property, at a price of $7000.

The confirmation of the purchase of the property was followed by three recommendations of the Menlo Park Planning Commission, who suggested:

First, that City Engineer Edwin H. Smith consult with San Francisco Recreation Board experts to obtain a typical layout for the O'Dea property upon which to construct a baseball diamond, tennis courts, basketball court and track facilities.

Second, that access to and from the property be made possible by obtaining a 50-foot strip of land from University Ave. to the highway fronting the park, and a 50-foot strip along Middle Ave. to the new road.

Third, that a site be set aside on the O'Dea property which will be used in the future expansion as a clubhouse.

TRAILER CAMP UP

The council spent more than an hour discussing the problem of an auto trailer camp within the city limits of Menlo Park. To a delegation of citizens along Roble Ave. near El Camino Real, City Atty. James T. O'Keefe Jr. explained:

"It is impossible to remove such a camp by existing zoning ordinances, by licensing provisions, or by sanitation, if the proprietor lives up to the regulations imposed upon him."

He told the council and objectors there was nothing in the law to prevent the maintenance of such an establishment.

"The next step by objecting persons should come through the health department" said Mayor J. E. Cooper, while O'Keefe suggested the citizens might secure independent counsel to aid their fight against such an auto camp.

Carnivals will have a difficult time breaking into Menlo Park in the future, it appeared from a digest of councilmen's views on the travelling troupes which have pitched tents in the city.

Mayor Cooper spoke of an ordinance which would raise the ante on carnivals to $1000 license fee a day, in an effort to keep them from the city. Police Commissioner Carroll declared however, the rigid enforcement of existing ordinances, and compelling the payment of licenses for each concession would keep carnivals far away.

Street Commissioner Lusk reported a balance of $2284 in quarter cent gas tax funds credited to the city of Menlo Park in the state treasury. He told of anticipated collections in gas tax funds of $2090 for 1938-39. Lusk also spoke of installation of new storm drains when the city's $35,000 street improvement project goes into effect.

STREET CONDITION HIT

A Fremont St. objector to the condition of the thoroughfare wrote the council:

"If this street is not improved, it will be necessary for our children to take rowboats to school."

At the suggestion of Lusk the city clerk was authorized to write property owners along Fremont, informing them they may start agitation for a street improvement project.

Planting of poppies throughout Menlo Park may begin anytime, since all ploughing is completed, the council learned. The program is part of a clean-up drive initiated by the chamber of commerce for exposition year. Signs and billboards along the highway either will be removed or beautified, it was learned. The chamber is supplying poppy seed and the Lions Club will do the planting.

Re-appointed to the planning commission by Cooper were Mark L. Laughlin and John Sullivan.

$25 Fine Assessed On Building Charge

Joe Terranova, Daly City, former Redwood City plasterer charged with erecting a store building in Lawndale after his contractor's license had been suspended by the state, was fined $25 and placed on six months' probation by Judge Wade H. Clay. Terranova pleaded guilty to the charge.

Al Bailey and Joe Smith, who pleaded guilty to similar charges in Menlo Park and San Bruno, will not be prosecuted in San Carlos, where another complaint had been filed, according to Dep. Dist. Atty. Burress Karmel. The charge was dismissed yesterday, he said, after the two other cases had been settled.

Playground Move Pushed

Decision to endeavor to combine high school bands from throughout the county to participate in the dedicatory ceremonies relative to the courthouse annex during Redwood City's Spring Festival May 12-14 was reached Monday by Max Gelber, director of band and orchestra at Sequoia High School, and the Redwood City Recreation Commission, which is promoting the festival.

Gelber pointed out that school bands from Redwood City, San Mateo, Burlingame, South San Francisco and various other communities in the county will be joined that week-end for presentations at the World's Fair in San Francisco, as part of National Music Week. He said he thought it probable that the bands could be kept together till Sunday afternoon, May 14, to participate in the celebration here.

It was estimated that at least 200 musicians would play at the dedication of the courthouse if the arrangement is completed. This group would not play for the dedication of the municipal buildings, but only for the courthouse, which is a county project.

PROGRAM COMMITTEE

Vice-chairman James P. Hagan, presiding over the commission in the absence of Chairman Wayne R. Millington, appointed Andrew Spinas, Redwood City School District superintendent; Donald L. Bogie, Sequoia vice principal, and William M. Werder as a committee to work out a program for the dedications.

Hagan was asked by the commission to appear before the city council at its next meeting and request that the present library building, to be vacated in May when the library moves to its new building adjacent to the city hall, be given over to the recreation department as a center for its activity.

He also is to make a request that the commission be allowed to sponsor a supervised fireworks display at the yacht harbor on July 4. It is hoped that children will be permitted to shoot off their fireworks at the harbor under supervision on that date.

WPA SEEKS BUILDING

Alfred Morton, recreation director, urged that if the present library building be sold, the revenue be earmarked for the part purchase of a community center elsewhere in the city. In addition, H. V. De Armond, WPA recreation chief, suggested that the present police station, which also will be vacated with the completion of the new city structures, be turned over to his department for added space.

The commission went on record as favoring immediate action by the city in the purchase and improving of the site at Five Points selected for a playground. The site is located at the end of Locust St., which enters Woodside Rd. from the south, opposite Union Cemetery. First move to establish the playground was made a year ago, and City Manager Charles Dimmitt has said that the play area will be completed before Summer.

In an effort to achieve co-ordination between the commission and field work being done by the WPA workers, Vice-Chairman Hagan appointed Morton and De Armond to meet with Dimmitt and Arthur Ryan, county WPA chief, to work out a plan for keeping up the appearance of the city's playgrounds at Hawes Park and on Chestnut St. Morton protested to the commission that insufficient work was being done. He had received, he said, numerous complaints from citizens. Roger Walsh, city park superintendent, also is to meet with that group.

Students' Tickets For Fair on Sale

Specially priced student admission tickets, for all children through senior high school age, remain on sale at the chamber of commerce at 12 for $2.50—21 cents each — Secretary-Manager Roscoe Wyatt announced.

After Feb. 17 the special scrip book will no longer be available, and students over 12 years of age will be admitted to the Fair at the regular general admission rate, 50 cents. After that date children from the ages of 5 to 12 will be charged 25 cents.

It was pointed out that the scrip book tickets are transferable, and that several students may band together to buy a single book if they desire.

M. P. MAN, 24, DIES

Board Refuses To Raise Ante For City Work

Health Plan Is Given Setback As Funds Are Denied

Dr. Charles C. Gans' efforts to consolidate city and county health departments under a single administration hit its first snag Tuesday when the board of supervisors turned down the health chief's request for funds with which to hire an additional sanitary inspector and to put a half time food inspector on full time.

Dr. Gans had requested $1350 from the unbudgeted reserve for his salary fund, and assured the board in a letter approved by Executive Peterson that the money would be repaid in fees.

Asst. Dist Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan blocked the allocation when he informed the board that the health department was placing the cart before the horse.

NEED CITY'S CONSENT

"The board of supervisors has no right to go into any city to do health work without the express consent of the city councils," Sullivan ruled. "So far as I know, no one has contacted these cities to see what they are willing to pay for county health service, and until there is a definite contract, the county cannot spend any money for city health work."

Sullivan said the law on the subject is unmistakable.

Supervisor Fred E. Beer said it was his understanding the cities had agreed to turn income from milk inspection over to the county in compensation for the service extended. Sullivan contended no such informal agreement could supplant the necessary contracts.

Originally, it was pointed out, the county service was offered free to the cities.

"The contract should set forth a stipulated amount to be paid for the service," Sullivan said.

ANNEX OVERCROWDED

Dr. Gans has succeeded in extending the county health service to Daly City, Burlingame, San Mateo, Belmont, and Bayshore City. So far, Sullivan said, the extension has been accomplished without expenditure of additional funds. The $1350 was the first amount requested for the purpose.

That the county government had outgrown its new courthouse annex before that structure was completed was apparent when Supervisor Beer suggested that the county renew the lease on the present quarters of the county engineer, for the purpose of providing adequate quarters for the county library.

There is no provision for additional library space in the new annex, Beer said. The problem, together with the request of Recorder T. Clark Rice for additional storage and vault rooms, was referred to the county executive for study and recommendation. Beer pointed out that the charter gives the executive special jurisdiction over buildings.

ACCEPTS APPROPRIATION

The board appeared contented with the proposed $661,000 allocation for widening El Camino Real between Redwood City and Palo Alto as satisfactory. Beer said the county did not want the road torn up during the fair year, and that it would be impossible to get in a single biennium the entire amount of money necessary to complete the project.

On recommendation of County Engineer M. A. Grant, the board paid the special claim of N. M. Ball Sons for the La Honda Rd. contract from funds held in escrow by the state. The board also passed a resolution paying $2000 to the Cowell Estate for a 1913 El Camino Real right-of-way claim.

At the request of County School Supt. Pansy Jewett Abbott, the board took steps to divide the Visitacion Valley School Districts into two districts. The new district, including the Bayshore City and adjacent territory, will be known as the Bayshore Elementary School District.

FURNISHINGS BOUGHT

The board awarded three contracts for courthouse annex furnishings. American Seating Co. is to supply seats for $1417.78; General Electric Supply Co. the fixtures for $2474.42, and Mission Carpet Co. the Venetian blinds for $1990.38.

Request of the Highlands Improvement Club for additional financial support for its proposed police district was continued when it was pointed out the district would have no tax income until 1940-41, and would be limited to $2400 yearly. The district, already in debt $150, would seek to borrow an additional $900 but could not repay it, according to Sullivan.

Requests of the Belmont Chamber of Commerce for state assistance for extension of Ralston Ave. to San Mateo-Hayward Bridge as a "farm to market" road met a rebuff at the hands of Division Highway Engineer John H. Skeggs.

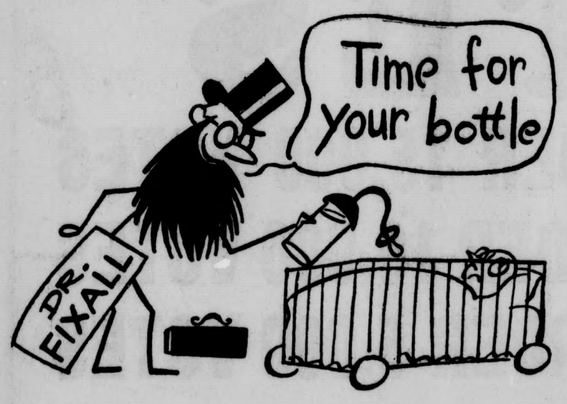
GEORGE CITIZEN POPS A BRIGHT QUESTION



TIME FOR WHOSE BOTTLE?

DEAR JOHNS-MANVILLE REDWOOD CITY PLANT—

Just how much spanking and hand-feeding do you think American business really needs to help it along?

GEORGE CITIZEN

Dear George

Some people in recent years have liked to paint business as a big helpless baby which someone has to tie in bed and watch every minute so it will eat its spinach.

That's because since 1929 the whole world has been upset, and business as a result has been off its feed some, along with everybody else.

But a glance at the record since 1929 shows that business has been about the most robust force in the country, after all, even in these worst of all years.

My own company, Johns-Manville, for instance, with only about 11,000 employees, took in and SPENT some $248,817,000 in the seven bad years from 1929 to 1935. That's more than enough to build a couple of Boulder Dams!

More than half of this was spent with other businesses and their employees for raw materials. After taxes, rent and the cost of wearing out plant and machinery were deducted, there were over $91,000,000 to pass out to jobholders and stockholders. Out of each dollar of this, the employees got 88 cents and the stockholders got 12 cents.

And now let's take a look at the money taken in and SPENT by all manufacturing corporations in America during those seven depression years.

American industries in the years from 1929 to 1935 took in and SPENT almost 331 billion dollars. That's almost 50 billion a year. That's sumpin'!

American industries in those years SPENT 236 billions for materials (which include a lot of labor) and 63 billions in wages and salaries.

In short, business has been doing things on such a scale as to make it the greatest of all forces for the country's economic good.

The reason that I'm saying all this is that I think all this baby stuff about business is nonsense, and I think that these figures prove the vitality of the American system of business. They show its great ability, under more encouraging conditions, to grow and bring better times for us all.
